YANKS REGAIN SOME TUNISIA GROUND

Six Miles Of Lost Ground Are Regained

American Forces Have Re-

Lost In Tunisia

CONSIDERABLE LOSS
TO BOTH FORCES

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, in North Africa, Feb. 16.—Hard-fighting American troops in central Tunisia today picked up six miles of the ground lost on Sunday when Field Marshal Rommel launched a sudden, savage attack from Faid Pass.

Although "small elements" of the Axis army entered the American garrison town of Gafsa, a spokesman at Allied Headquarters described the general situation as "fairly satisfactory."

Desperately heavy fighting continued throughout the battle area and casualties were considerable on both sides.

It was on the road leading from Faid Pass to Sbeitla that the Americans wiped out six miles of the 18-mile gain recorded in Rommel's initial onslaught by two heavily armored columns.

The American forces which lightly held Gafsa withdrew yesterday afternoon, and an advance unit of German armored troops, small in size, entered the town.

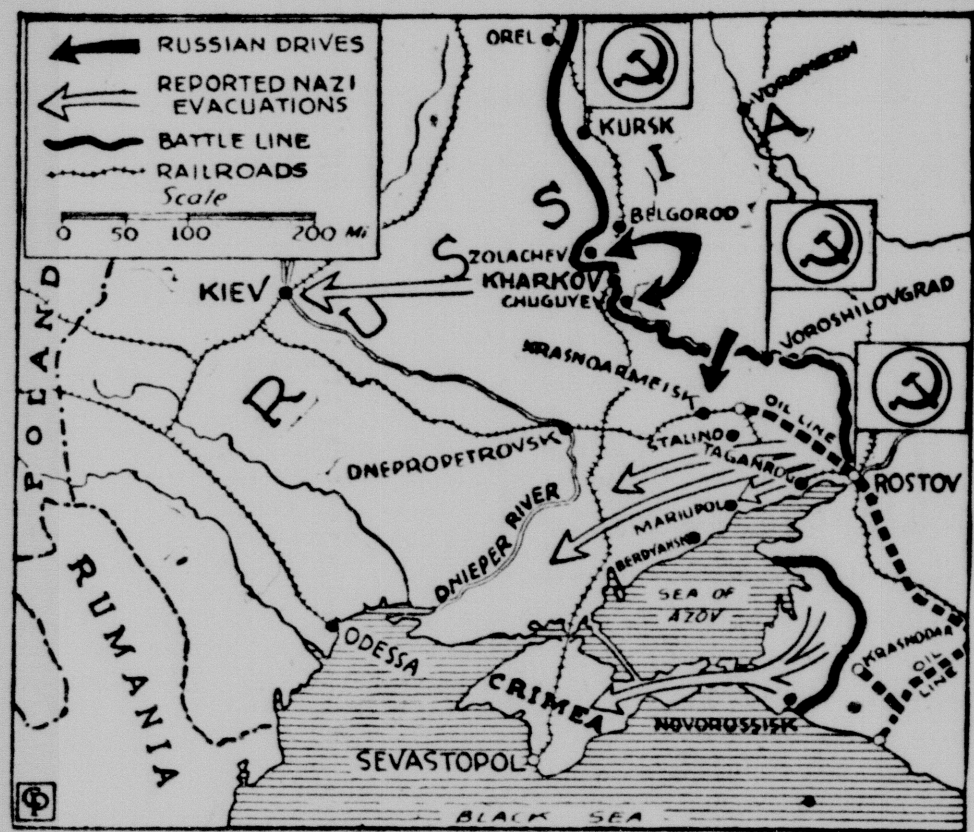

Further Advance
This occupation marked the furthest point of the Axis advance in any direction. Gafsa lies some 20 miles from Faid Pass.

Actually, however, the Germans now hold an area of 12 miles surrounding Faid instead of the 18 which fell to them in the sudden land advance staged under cover of a terrific artillery barrage and Stuka dive-bombing attacks.

The American line has now swung backward to a point a few miles east of Sbeitla. The Germans stand in fairly heavy force southwest of Gafsa.

In characteristic fashion, Rommel (Continued On Page Two)

Axis armies are again fleeing westward to escape capture by Russian forces that have captured Rostov and Voroshilovgrad and other Soviet cities in the Ukraine. Practically all the territory occupied by the Germans last summer now has been retaken. Light arrows on this map indicate the route along which the Germans are retreating toward the Dnieper river.

American Airmen Pounding Munda Base

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—American airmen in the South Pacific today are "softening up" the Japanese airfield and base at Munda apparently in preparation for a knock-out blow against this point in the Central Solomons.

At least 65 bombing raids have been conducted by U. S. planes against Munda since the last week in November, and recently they have faced little opposition from enemy aircraft or anti-aircraft fire.

Reports from the battle area, however, disclosed that the Japs have strengthened greatly their aerial and ground defense in the short-land island area of the Northern Solomons.

Whereas previously American bombers and fighter planes encountered little opposition in raids in the Shortland zone, on Feb. 13-14 a total of at least 75 Jap Zeros rose to intercept the assaults.

Finland Proclaims Freedom To Retire From Russian War

Manifesto In Finnish Parliament
Dissociates Majority
Party From Axis

By STEN HELDMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 16.—Finland's social democratic party which holds a majority in parliament today dissociated itself from the Axis cause in a manifesto declaring that the nation is "free to decide to retire from the war" with Russia when the "propitious moment" arrives.

A statement on the party's views was issued, a dispatch from Helsinki revealed, immediately after re-election of President Risto Ryti by the college of electors.

"Continuation of the war, which the people have been obliged to wage against their will, has the sole purpose of safeguarding the country's freedom and independence," the statement declared.

"We are not parties in the war of the great powers and do not fight for the goals of either side," the statement continued.

"The fact that Finland is fighting alongside of Germany does not alter the fact that Finland is free to retire from the war when the propitious moment appears and Finland's liberty and independence are secured."

President Ryti, who took office in 1940 following the death of President Kyosti Kallio, was elected for a term of two years instead of the usual six years.

REPORT FIGHTING IN KHARKOV OUTSKIRTS

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Feb. 16.—Red army columns went forward across a wide area of the southern Ukraine today in an effort to trap retreating German forces fleeing from Rostov through the lower Donets Basin.

As columns to the north increased pressure on the large steel center of Kharkov, other Soviet forces liberated scores of localities between Voroshilovgrad and Rostov.

Soviet commanders shot armored spearheads toward the sea of Azov in the direction of Taganrog, 40 miles west of Rostov, in the hope of trapping retreating Nazi columns.

Retake 20 Localities
At noon the high command issued a communique reporting the recapture of 20 inhabited localities west of Shakhiv, 45 miles northeast of Rostov, after a battalion of motorized infantry was routed.

Several localities west of Likhavka in the Ukraine were liberated and considerable war material seized. The booty included 44 tanks.

Southwest of Voroshilovsk, the communique said, 400 Germans were killed while another 120 were slain on a different sector.

In the Chuguev area, 22 miles southeast of threatened Kharkov, a number of Nazis were taken prisoner when the Russians crushed an important center of resistance. Several localities were occupied on another sector of this front where 30 Germans were killed.

"Berlin admitted that Russian forces had breached the outer defenses of Kharkov and that battles of 'grim ferocity' raged on the outskirts of the Ukraine capital."

U. S. Subs Press Attacks On Jap Supply Routes

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said today that the United States is "pressing" its submarine campaign energetically to cut Japanese supply lines to conquered area in the Pacific.

"We are pressing our submarine campaign very, very energetically," Knox told his regular press conference.

This statement was made by the secretary after he admitted that the enemy undoubtedly is getting oil from the Netherlands East Indies area.

Some Not Destroyed

Knox added that according to unofficial reports some installations in the East Indies were not destroyed and that it proved fairly easy for the Japs to get some shallow wells in northern Borneo into operation.

While there have been no reports from the navy on submarine activity in the Pacific since Jan. 30 it is known that U. S. submarines are constantly prowling the far reaches of the Pacific in search of Japanese ships. The reports are announced periodically when the navy considers it safe to do so.

BRITISH ARMY HAS TAKEN BEN GARDANE

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
CAIRO, Feb. 16.—Seizure of the Axis Tunisian base on Ben Gardane by the British Eighth army was announced today by the middle east high command which also disclosed that United States heavy bombers inflicted large damage during a new raid on the Italian port of Naples.

Direct hits were scored on two Axis merchant vessels. Other targets in the port also were smashed. The American bombers shot down four out of a force of enemy fighter planes which attempted to intercept them. Several other enemy craft were damaged in the raid which was carried out yesterday.

Sicily Also Attacked

The bombardment of Naples was carried out at the same time American flying fortress bombers conducted their first assault from bases in Tunisia against Axis bases on the Mediterranean island of Sicily.

The British eighth army striking westward through Tunisia from Tripolitania meanwhile drove beyond the Axis base of Ben Gardane and continued to hammer at the rear guard of Nazi general field marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps.

The communique revealed that Ben Gardane, air base on the coast road 20 miles inside the Tunisian frontier, was captured yesterday by forces under command of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery.

Seizure of Ben Gardane gave Gen. Montgomery's army access to more improved roadways leading northward through Tunisia.

Gafsa was garrisoned by American troops and was one of the key-points in the drive launched by Nazi field marshal Erwin Rommel from Faid Pass on Sunday.

No Disposition Of Martinique Ships

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today he had no information about possible disposition of the French aircraft carrier Bearn and other warships in the Martinique area.

This matter came up in Knox' weekly press conference following the disclosure yesterday that the 35,000-ton French battleship, Richelieu, and other vessels had arrived in an American port for repairs before joining the war against the Axis.

In addition to the carrier, the French have at Martinique two cruisers, the Jean d'Arc and Emile Bertin, and some smaller craft.

CRUISER CHICAGO IS SUNK IN RECENT SEA BATTLES IN PACIFIC

Another U. S. Destroyer Also Lost —

Report 15 Japanese Warships And Vessels Sunk Or Damaged — Casualties In Cruiser Sinking "Are Not Large" — Navy Reveals Details Of Recent Pacific Sea Battles.

By JOSEPH A. BORS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The navy reported today that the American land victory on Guadalcanal was preceded by seven days of furious air and naval action over 100,000 square miles of sea in which the U. S. heavy cruiser Chicago and one unidentified destroyer were sunk and 15 Japanese warships and supply vessels were sunk or damaged.

The Japanese losses were listed officially as two destroyers sunk, four destroyers probably sunk and six destroyers, one Corvette, and two cargo ships damaged. In addition, the Japanese lost more than 60 airplanes.

In a complete report on the battles which occurred between Jan. 29 and Feb. 4, the navy disclosed that 22 U. S. planes and three motor torpedo boats were lost in a series of engagements around the vital southern Solomons which the United States now controls.

The navy, in its communique, stated these totals included all known American and Japanese losses and added that personnel casualties aboard the heavy cruiser Chicago "were not large."

The Japanese originally claimed that in this action American losses were two battleships and three cruisers sunk and one battleship and one cruiser damaged.

According to the communique there was no big scale fighting between powerful American and Japanese sea forces but the action consisted mainly of scattered engagements over the large sea area between U. S. and Japanese planes and smaller craft.

Navy Communique

Text of the navy's 282nd communique follows:

South Pacific, January 29 to February 4 (all dates are East Longitude).

1. During the latter part of January, U. S. reconnaissance planes located heavy Japanese fleet units, including battleships and aircraft carriers, in the waters between Truk and the Solomon Islands. Simultaneously reports were received of large groups of enemy destroyers in the Solomon Islands and an unusually heavy concentration of enemy aircraft at all of the Japanese bases in the Solomon Islands—New Britain area.

2. It appeared possible that the Japanese fleet might accept a decisive battle. Subsequent events indicate, however, that the enemy was solely concerned with evacuation of troops from Guadalcanal and interference with the U. S. troop transports which were landing soldiers on Guadalcanal, shortly before the collapse of enemy resistance on the island. There were no actions between heavy forces. Active operations of enemy surface forces were confined mainly to movements of destroyer detachments under heavy air cover between Guadalcanal and enemy bases in the northern Solomons.

Chicago Hit
3. During the evening of January 29, a force of U. S. cruisers and destroyers which was covering transport movements and operating about 70 miles to the south of Guadalcanal in the vicinity of Rennell Island, was attacked by enemy torpedo planes. The USS Chicago was hit by torpedoes and severely damaged. The damaged cruiser was taken in tow by another cruiser and later was turned over to a tug for towing.

4. The following day, January 30, in the afternoon, the Chicago was again attacked by 13 enemy torpedo planes and as a result of this attack was sunk. U. S. aircraft shot down 12 of the 13 enemy planes, but not in time to ward off the attack on the Chicago. Personnel casualties (Continued On Page Two)

RABAU BLASTED

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Feb. 16.—A new allied aerial campaign to blast out of existence all of Japan's principal bases in the southwest Pacific appeared under way today following a series of devastating raids across a 2,000-mile front north of Australia.

In bombardments over a vast area from New Britain Island westward to the Netherlands East Indies, the powerful Jap base at Rabaul, on New Britain, was subjected to a second successive attack in force and the Japanese-held Dutch naval base at Ambon was blasted.

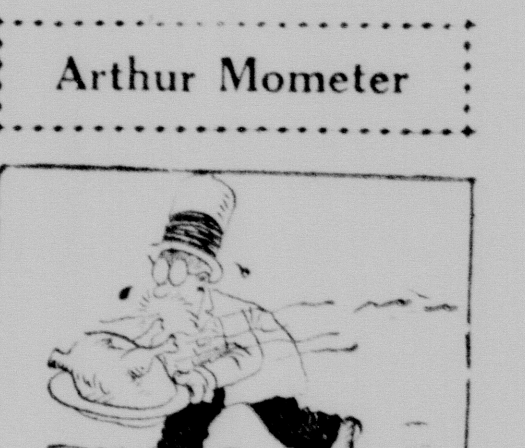

The assaults, the heaviest series in the past two months, were revealed in a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

Virtual Destruction

Japanese installations at Dobo on Ait Island, southwest of New Guinea, were virtually destroyed in one attack. Another damaging assault was made on the airdrome at Lae, New Guinea.

More than 38 tons of heavy demolition bombs and 1,500 incendiaries were loosed on Rabaul which (Continued On Page Two)

Small Plants May Be Exempt

Forty-Eight Hour Week Decree Not Likely To Affect Plants With Few
Employees

SMALL STORES, ETC.
WOULD BE AIDED

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—Manpower sources indicated today that the forthcoming regulations designed to implement the 48-hour week order may exempt establishments employing less than eight persons and delegate broad powers to local officials of the War Manpower Commission.

Such a course would be in line with present statutes which exempt small employers from overtime provisions of the wage-hour law and from social security and compensation benefit payments. Domestic servants and agricultural workers also are in this category.

Neighborhood grocery stores and the smaller retail establishments would be among those principally affected by the exemption clause.

"Wait and See"

Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the WMC, hinted at the exceptions in a press conference when he advised employers to "wait and see" the forthcoming regulations, emphasizing that the 48-hour order of President Roosevelt is extremely flexible.

It has to be in order to accomplish its purpose, McNutt asserted.
The announced purpose is to release manpower for the war effort.

Local WMC representatives in the 32 labor shortage areas throughout the country where the presidential decree first will become effective will have authority in the administration of the 48-hour order. It was reported that they would be empowered to grant exceptions within their respective areas.

At the same time, it was said that the 12 regional offices of the WMC would be given the right to broaden the labor shortage area covered by the order; extend its application to other areas within their respective regions; or extend it to individual occupations or activities.

counter-attacks on the eastern ap-titanic battles which developed as the Russian offensive swept steadily ahead. Russian units drivadjacent villages and other Soviet columns at Zolochiev, on the North-

Russian motorized units driving the rail line from Stalino to Tagan-

the whole German retreat.

Another Russian vanguard has

of Stalino and within 70 miles of Mariupol. Strong German resistance on this sector has held up the Soviet advance for several days. But Rus-enemy counter-attacks.

Russian units smashed ahead through the Donets Basin towards Stalino and occupied several towns on the rail line from Voroshilovgrad, according to the Soviet midnight communiqué. Among towns occupied on this sector were Krasnodon, 45 miles northeast of Stalino, the dis-zer units and infantry. The Stukas themselves accounted for the greater part of American casualties in the first two days of fighting.

Battle Stuka Attacks

In an attempt to curb the Stuka attacks, American Martin Marauder and B-24 Mitchell bombers escorted by Lockheed Lightnings blasted the key Nazi airfield near Kairouan in two successive waves only half an hour apart yesterday. The Marauders covered the field with bombs, one stick falling among a concentration of planes on the ground.

Two Nazi planes taking off in an effort to intercept the attack ran smack into falling bombs and were blasted to bits.

Especially heavy fighting raged
south of the road leading from Sidi Bou Zed to Sbeitla. In their first rush, Rommel's panzers overran American armored support and artillery. American armored divisions suffered heavily again when they counter-attacked almost immediately after the German onslaught.

Yesterday, however, a second armored combat team combined with remnants of the first unit launched another counter-drive and drove the Germans back six miles, although again suffering heavy casualties.

There were losses on both sides,
however. One single American armored unit accounted for 20 German tanks.

vessels were probably sunk and 32
damaged for a grand total of 177.

Knox appeared pleased at the developments in the Guadalcanal area, but had little to say about current operations except that there is "a lot of air activity down there."

The secretary said the navy expects to issue a communique very shortly clearing up the recent series of engagements between powerful Japanese and American sea-air forces.

"We are going to clear up the whole story," Knox said. "You will see then there were good sound military reasons for not making the facts public before."

He expressed pleasure over the fact that the American forces on Guadalcanal were able to crush
Japanese resistance within 10 days, although he had predicted that the enemy forces would be swept off within 30 days.

"The possession of Guadalcanal gives us a firm and very advantageous base for future operations," the secretary said.

felt the weight of 50 tons of high explosives less than 24 hours before. Damage was believed to have been heavy.

Allied planes blasting at Rabaul attacked in two waves. Numerous fires were started in the harbor area and the town was reported engulfed in flames. Tremendous explosions destroyed ammunition dumps and heavy fires were started at the Rapopo airfield.

All allied planes returned safely.
Damage caused by the continuous series of recent raids was indicated by the fact that no enemy fighter planes took the air. The only opposition was from anti-aircraft batteries.

Leave Area In Flames

A squadron of medium bombers raided the enemy base at Ubili, on New Britain and left the area in flames.

An 8,000-ton transport was damaged and probably destroyed at Am-bon in an assault which levelled the town. Fires started in the harbor area were visible for 50 miles.

Doko was left in ruins and apparently has been abandoned by the Japanese.

Seventeen tons of heavy bombs were dropped on Lae in an attack concentrated on the supply area.
Numerous fires enveloped the town in great clouds of smoke which prevented accurate observation of results of the attack.

An allied heavy bomber scored damaging hits on the airfield at Finschhafen and another bomber scored direct hits on a cargo vessel in Stettin Bay.

Allied ground patrols continued
mopping up operations against Japanese stragglers in the Wau district of New Guinea. An additional 72 enemy dead were counted as Australian jungle fighters rounded up small parties of enemy troops and drove the main enemy force back in the direction of Salamaua.

pouring in more men and supplies
into the Munda area and to concentrate on bolstering their bases in Shortland, Munda is 180 miles

Ferocity and frequency of the American air raids on Munda have demonstrated the importance of wiping out or seizing this Jap base which could be used as a springboard for fresh Jap aerial and sea-borne assaults against Guadalcanal.

NOT ISLAND-BY-ISLAND

IT IS ASSURING to hear from Secretary Knox that the Navy has never contemplated an island-by-island campaign against Japan. The Solomons operations had led to a belief in many quarters that the master plan of the Pacific war called for a steady, but slow, American advance from the South and one-by-one overthrow of Japanese bases until a point was reached from which to launch an all-out attack on Japan's home islands.

Although Secretary Knox is careful not to let out hints about broad strategy, a frontal smash at Japan from the sea or a drive by way of the coast of China conceivably would be a shorter road to victory than the tedious island-by-island route.

However, any campaign by way of the Chinese coast presumably would depend upon recovery by the Allies of Jap-held Burma and reopening of the Burma road. In any event, one of the requirements for victory is the providing of more help for China than this country has yet been able to extend. To insure the crushing of the Tokio war gang not only must Japan's home islands be directly attacked but Japan's large armed forces in China must be completely defeated.

FORGOTTEN AMERICANS

Millions of Americans are better off financially than they have ever been. Official government figures, supported by those of many private agencies, tell a story of increased income that so far has kept well in advance of the rise in the cost of living.

It is this excess of purchasing power in the hands of the public that the government by taxes and the sale of war bonds hopes to divert to the war effort. In the extra money in the pockets of consumers lies the chief threat of inflation.

There are also millions of Americans to whom this threat of inflation seems unreal if not ironic. Those who must live on fixed incomes from investments or from pensions have none of this excess purchasing power. Many are holding down jobs with no increase in salary, and yet they must meet the rising cost of living and pay the new taxes.

It is these citizens, often forgotten in treasury plans, who are making a genuine sacrifice in the war effort. Their standards of living are declining while millions of others find life more comfortable. It is on them that an inflated cost of living will place its heaviest burden.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

TOO MANY LIGHTS

Director Eastman of the office of defense transportation calls on municipal authorities to revise traffic control systems to save gasoline, tires and time. Some authorities have been tardy in working out this problem within their jurisdiction.

In many communities travel is impeded rather than expedited, in a period of declining use of automobiles, by multiplicity of lights, some of them unnecessary, some of them in operation during slow hours and nearly all of them synchronized improperly or not at all.

The ordeal of getting to and from war plants, offices, shops and shopping centers by bus should not be prolonged by needless blockades at every arterial corner while intersecting traffic trickles through. Bus riders and motorists know that many of these delays could be obviated by eliminating lights, and this without adding materially to the traffic hazard.

Elimination or curtailment of traffic lights may be said to expose pedestrians to added dangers. But experience shows there is no such thing as automatic safety. Where pedestrian movement is heavy lights will be retained under the Eastman order. Where it is not the pedestrian is on his own. He can aid in protecting himself by remembering the admonition to "cross at crosswalks and save a life, it may be yours."

A TAX CERTAINTY

Although Congress continues to receive at least one new suggestion for speeding tax payments each day and from the dust that floats over the tax front through the dust that covers the tax front there can be heard cries of "Forgive!" and "Forgive!" It is doubtful if a single taxpayer is led into wishful thinking by the noise or the haze.

After thirty years of income taxes—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, then a congressman from Tennessee, fathered the first income tax law in 1913—the one certainty about them is that the rates will be increased year by year until the end of incomes as the present generation knows them.

In fact, what is worrying Congress right now and causing it to engage in consideration and counter-consideration of all sorts of new schemes for collecting income taxes is the extent of these taxes under the doubled rates enacted last year. Congressmen are not actuated by a desire to ease the tax burden. They fear that millions of people will not have the money to pay the taxes when they fall due, hence would collect them quarterly or monthly, or perhaps even daily.

But there is no guarantee—or perhaps even hope—that income taxes, confiscatory as they have become, will remain at the present level. When the barrier was let down by constitutional amendment in 1913, after years of agitation by the Bryans et al. Congress sniffed a new and greener pasture and there is no record of a single congressman having devoted thought to a tax problem since that year.

When the government needs more money, Congress knows what to do and does it. It has done its duty so often and so well that it is now occupied in worrying about the problem of how to extract money from a person who does not have it. But Congress will find a way, depend upon it, and when one has been found bright new vistas of still higher and higher income taxes will open up before the solons who are reported as giving thanks to God nightly that Bryan thought of the income tax.

A ceiling has been placed on onions, but there is a school of thought which holds that they should be completely surrounded.

Words Of Wisdom

Wonderous is the strength of cheerfulness, altogether past calculation its powers of endurance. Efforts, to the permanently useful, must be uniformly joyous—a spirit all sunshine, graceful from very gladness, beautiful because bright.—Carlyle.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN TOT PLAYS AT MEALS

"Dear Dr. Myers:—I have a son 16 months old, whom I am trying to teach to feed himself. He can do very well and does for about six spoonfuls and then he plays with his spoon instead of putting it into his mouth. It doesn't seem to make any difference which meal it is—he does it each time. In the morning, for instance, I give him a dish of cereal, a dish of fruit and a cup of milk for his usual breakfast. He drinks the milk well by himself and I have considered allowing him a certain time to eat and then removing the food. But here is my problem. Suppose I give him the cereal and he should be put down without the fruit? Or should I give him the fruit after a length of time and let him have it a while. It makes no difference what the food is as he plays with his favorite foods just as much as any other.

"How long a time should he be allowed for a dish of food or do you suggest another method? Should he have more than one food at a time, like fruit and cereal together, or is it better one at a time?

"I am enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your reply."

The Doctor's Reply

This mother to whom I wrote a personal reply, enclosing my special bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction," clearly states the kind of problem facing thousands of mothers. Just because his mother looks at her problem objectively and breaks it up into smaller problems, I believe she will succeed. Here is what I wrote her:

It is fine that you aim to have that child feed himself. This is the first step in preventing or correcting eating problems at this age. Besides, it cultivates self-reliance.

Instead of placing several foods before the child at once, put there just one and a small amount of it. Choose first the essential food least liked and be sure the amount is very small, even less than a quarter of a teaspoonful. In case the child does not begin to eat this within five minutes, or dawdles over it unduly long, remove it and end the meal there. In some hard problems, even milk should be withheld till the next feeding time, with ample water and fruit juice between meals.

If the child eats the first food offered, present the second and so on. Let him have a second helping of any or all the foods, only after he has run the course, eating all the small amount of each food offered.

All the while do not feed this child, nor say a word about his eating, nor even move, look or breathe with any concern. See also that no other person does.

Provided the child is angry over the appearance of any food before him, don't have him seated. Instead, place the small helping of one food on a low table or chair with a spoon beside it and call it to his attention. If he does not go to it to eat it after five minutes, remove it and end the meal then and be sure he gets no food till the next meal time. Once a hard eating problem is solved it is important not to increase the helpings rapidly nor to present more than one food at a time for several weeks.

LO! THE INDIAN

They've gone off the reservation; they're on the warpath! So many American Indians are serving in the armed forces, or war-production plants just now that cute manpower shortages have developed on the reservations.

The Indian population of this country is only four hundred thousand and of this number eleven thousand are now men-of-war. Still greater numbers have gone out to help build bombers and tanks, to perform other war jobs. So the farm work and keeping of the tribal stock falls to the lot of Indian women or children. Many of the women have learned to drive tractors and trucks even to repair heavy automotive equipment and assist as "cow-girls" in round-ups.

"My son fights, I work" was the classic utterance of an old Indian woman in a blanket, who had gone into the general store to purchase two war stamps and a hoe. Purchase of War Bonds and Stamps by Indians has amounted to nearly two million dollars during the last year! Navajo Indians, a breed of cash, give sacks of corn, mutton, Indian silvers and rugs. One wealthy Indian woman sent a check for one thousand dollars for Navy relief—signing the check with her thumb-print!

After all, this was their country long before it was ours. Deeply ingrained in the Indian heart is love of his own soil. He is joining with us now—no longer against us—for we are one in a passionate appeal to the "Great Spirit" for a speedy victory!

IN THE CONTAINER

We met a henpecked man, at a lunch counter the other day, and he looked rather the worse for wear.

"What's the trouble, Tim?" we asked.

"Domestic stuff again," he answered. "My wife just threw out a suit of my clothes."

"Why worry so much about that?" we asked. "Wives are all the time throwing out their husbands' suits, or donating them to rummage sales."

"Yes, yes, but this was different," Tim said. "I was in the suit."

Ciano Appointment Looked On As Peace Move
Duce May Be Trying To Escape Coming Doom
Vatican Seen As Center Of Peace Movement

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—If Duce Mussolini's appointment of Count Galeazzo Ciano, his son-in-law, as his diplomatic representative at the Vatican, is very interestingly interpreted by certain students of relationships between the Axis countries. It is a guesswork, of course, but so are most of these wartime developments' meanings. It sounds plausible, anyway.

Ciano was a member of the Italian cabinet, which Benito radically reshuffled recently, forcing Ciano out as foreign minister.

He was only one of a considerable number of ministers who were eased out of office, but his was considered an exceptionally notable case because of the count's matrimonial connection with Il Duce's family and the cordial terms upon which he and his father-in-law apparently have cooperated heretofore. Ciano was the time shake-up was a sequel to pro-peace activity on the part of the ministers whose portfolios were forfeited. This sounded like a reasonable enough explanation as to all of them but Count Ciano. It did seem rather queer, however, that he should have been party to a peace plot that his boss and political superior had so heartily as to chuck son-in-law into the discard for participation in it.

Consequently a counter-explanation was evolved.

It was to the effect that Fuehrer Hitler had had tips on the reported effort to detach Italy from the Axis, and had warned Benito to suppress it, making an outstanding example of Count Ciano, as the arch-conspirator; else the Nazis would invade the peninsula, take charge in Rome, and make short work of Il Duce, politically, anyway, and maybe physically.

If that dope's correct, Benito evidently did not consider that the time had come for him to put up formidable resistance; he could not last long if he tried it at present.

So Mussolini yielded, presumably only because he had to do so. It is not assumed that he was a totalitarian as anybody, but not to the extent of enjoying being (Continued On Next Page)

COURAGE ABOVE ALL DOUBT

"Oh never doubt your fellows!" said a doctor home from sea.

"Could you only know their courage," said you'd be sure of victory. Take that sailor on the Yorktown underneath the Jap attack.

Who, although his leg was splintered, bore a pal upon his back.

And then jumped from deck to water, seventy feet through smoke and flame of enemy.

And buoyed him soul and body, till a ship to rescue came.

"At times I cannot tell it for the choking in my throat. All the splendor of those fellows in the battle scenes remote.

There are one whose back was broken—just a boy a year ago—

But he said unto the doctor, "What is wrong with me I know. And for me the war is over. Don't waste time and care on me. Go and help some other fellow!" That takes more than bravery.

"They've done their bit for freedom and they are coming home in ships. Some with sightless eyes or legless, some with sprain-shattered hips!

They have shown a sort of courage which set all hearts alee. I have seen them and I know it! They are splendid; they are great!

They have proved their worth in battle. They are all that men can be.

So never doubt your fellows!" said a doctor home from sea.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

A New York store advertised Nylons for sale with war bonds the other day and three thousand women immediately answered the call to the colors.—Suntan, niege and taupe.

If you see a woman wearing Nylons in New York today she is a patriot even if she has fat ankles.

The treasury profited $20,000 by the sale and there is inspiration for future war bond sales in the lesson.

Priority on a quarter pound of butter would induce many patriots to bust open their piggy banks and invest in war bonds.

Or perhaps an extra pair of shoes would bring out the income tax money in full on March 15.

If there is any sermon in the proceedings it must be that it is a queer country where women will buy $20,000 worth of war bonds to get at the stocking counter.

Think what a dram of Chanel No. 5 would accomplish!

In times like these no sacrifice is too great—if we must buy war bonds to get Nylons, we will even buy war bonds.

False Reasoning

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. THE STRANGE theory is being advanced in Washington that because we are making progress in the war, the conflict, confusion and incompetency with which our war agencies are saturated is immaterial and should cause no worry. Our armed forces, it is pointed out, are expanding and our war production is steadily increasing.

HEREFORE, no one need be concerned over the feuds and friction among the important officials of the WPB and the indecision at the top. Nor should there be any concern over the failure of the Treasury to face squarely up to the vital problems of taxation; over the imminent collapse of our fight to divert inflation; over such appointments as that of Mr. Flynn.

AND THERE is no need for perturbation over the retention of fifth-grade men in first-grade positions; over the shuffling out of the ablest citizens in the country from participation in the war management; over the obvious maneuvering for a fourth term; over the unnecessary waste of money and the futility of the retrenchment gestures in non-war expenditures; or over any of the other costly examples of bungling and procrastination.

CONCEDING THAT all these things exist, still we are told that the American people do not—and should not—bother about them. All that matters is to get on with the winning of the war. To bring up these other matters is trivial, also harassing to those clothed with responsibility. This is the argument, and it is intimated that those who do mention them are narrow, partisan, or both.

The idea of the inspiration of this school of thought, helped it along Friday night by the inevitable name-calling, from which none of its speeches seems wholly free. In this one we used the word "pettifogger," presumably to describe those who feel that everything in Washington is not as it should be—and say so.

The idea, of course, is that no one should call attention to any Administration sin, either of omission or commission. What is suggested is that we take the "broad view," in which these things not only are not noticed but not even seen. Actually, it amounts to asserting that every Administration act is perfect and that only the low-minded thing otherwise. It is an unwarranted assumption of infallibility and a plain effort to stifle criticism which, acquired in, makes protestations concerning the freedom of the press and of speech absurd. Looking At Life

—By Erich Brandeis

There was a cartoon in one of the papers a few nights ago showing two fat fellows sitting on a couch.

In front of them was a pretty awful-looking mutt, wagging his tail for all he was worth.

The caption under the cartoon said: "Ed, one of the reasons why a dog has so many friends is that his tail wags instead of his tongue!"

Wagging tongues have probably caused more trouble in this world than anything else.

When nature evolved us from monkeys into men, she should have let us keep our tails.

Then, maybe, we could wag them more and our tongues less.

But it isn't just the wagging that creates the mischief. It's what makes us wag our tongues.

There's envy. We see someone who has done better than ourselves, so we try to find flaws and spread their around.

We see a woman in a mink coat, while we can afford only a muskrat. Buzz, buzz, buzz, how did she come by it?

The fellow next door has a sleek limousine, we only have a jalopy. Buzz, buzz, buzz—I bet he's a crook.

But the cartoon was wrong in one respect. The

Lawrence County Grangers Discuss Food Production

Problems Confronting War-time Farmer Presented At County Meeting

Grangers from all of the subordinate granges of Lawrence County met with the North Beaver Grange in the Moravia Presbyterian church on Saturday for a full day session. An exceptionally good attendance was noted. "The Farmer's Wartime Job" was the theme of the day.

During the business meeting, presided over by W. H. McCullough, master, the following resolutions were adopted: An endeavor to secure an increase in the quota for farm machinery allowed to be sold in the county; opposition to war time because while the nation recognizes the need of foodstuffs, agriculture harvests her crops by sun time and war time is a hardship and handicap, therefore a detriment to agriculture.

On roll call the Pomona officers reported on their achievements in grange work for the past year.

John Kyle, master of North Beaver Grange, extended a very cordial welcome, and Glenn Patterson responded, and in his remarks he pointed out ways the farmers are held up in wartime production: Lack of speedy action has caused a shortage of steel shipments for important farm machinery; lack of labor has forced the farmer to sell his cows, and delayed action has also held up the "pay-as-you-go" plan. Through good management the farmer must overcome these handicaps and produce more food and fiber.

Past Pomona Master Sharp Fullerton properly installed Carl Heckathorn as a member of the executive committee, and Mrs. Theodore Monor as Pomona.

Afternoon Program

At the afternoon session, the program arranged by the lecturer, opened with the grange singing "Reveille." John Klammer and Rea Belle Carr pleased with a cornet and saxophone duet.

Cash awards were presented by Master McCullough to Ernest Carr and Janice Harman for vocational work, and to Dorothy McAnlis and George Byers for 4-H club work. The young people responded graciously.

E. C. Wiggins gave an instructive talk on the theme subject. He said, in part, "Democracy is based upon the deeds of the farmer and we must look on it as an enjoyable profession. The farmer's war work should be much the same as his peacetime work. Even though commercial fertilizers are scarce, if proper peacetime preparation have been made the soil will be ready for production. On a well-managed farm it is not necessary to have a war to force the farmer to fix and care for his machinery. In spite of all handicaps the farmer must keep faith with his job and help save our democratic way of life."

John Kyle favored with a vocal solo.

Forum Discussion

The forum discussion was under the leadership of Harold H. McCullough, on the topic "What are the present effects of the war on the life of rural Lawrence County? What can be done about it?" Mrs. Seldon Byers, giving the home viewpoint, stressed conservation of food at home, to relieve shortages in the national supply. Homemakers should enroll in first aid and home nursing classes and keep homes healthy, on account of the doctor shortage.

Prof. S. G. McCullough spoke in the interests of the county schools. School problems include worry, by students with brothers in service, and lack of preparation, because their help is needed at home, since labor is scarce. Teachers are burdened with other activities, such as serving on rationing boards, scrap drives and the selling of war stamps. Parents often keep children from school without adequate reason. Teacher, student and parent must all work together to remedy this situation and keep the student in school to finish his education.

N. E. Sampson presented four problems confronting the farmer trying to maintain high production: labor, feeds, farm equipment, and transportation.

Rev. A. D. Anderson presented the position of the church, emphasizing the importance of ministers giving people spiritual messages to help them through these trying times. He pointed out the need to convince the boys remaining on the farms that they are soldiers producing food and fiber necessary to winning the war, even though they do not have uniforms nor live in army camps.

Assistant District Attorney Errol Fullerton gave a talk on "Your Federal Income Tax," and answered all questions.

Subordinate masters, Brother Dale Curry, Clifford Martin, George Young, David Kyle and J. Francis Book gave interesting reports of the state grange meeting at Harrisburg.

The next Pomona meeting will be held at Pleasant Hill Grange on Saturday, March 13.

Inside Washington

liquidated in the totalitarian manner by Adolf, if he can help it.

Mussolini's nerve is not assessed as amounting to anything, but he given credit for being a wily cuss. If he thinks that Adolf is about due to blow up, the reckoning is that he does not care particularly as to Adolf, but would like to make sure that he will survive him.

To meet the immediate situation (still guessing) Benito sacrificed his cabinet.

Count Ciano, by Adolf's decree, had to go with it.

For one thing, Benito wanted to keep the count in a good job.

Furthermore, presumably, Mussolini is anxious to keep the door open for the subsequent peace negotiations on a basis that will preserve Italy's integrity and his own job as it's due. It is a risky gamble certainly, but he hasn't a bit of choice in the matter.

Nobody imagines that he cares a hoot for Hitler and his Nazi pals. Nobody cares a hoot for Mussolini, either, but temporarily it would be a convenience to have him eliminated—just as fighting force but as a sentimental intelligencer.

Well, Count Ciano goes to the Vatican.

Now, Pope Pius XII, as it stands to reason, is definitely pro-peace. The count, then, is transferred to a post where he can work toward peace most effectively.

It was pretty clever management. Herr Hitler can't very well kick it. Neither can Comrade Joseph Stalin. The Japs are immaterial in this case.

The theory is that Benito is "fed up" with the war. He ought to be! I do not believe that anyone thinks the Vatican has a war interest.

The only rational conclusion, along this line of reasoning, is that Benito's notion is to quit, saving all he can out of the ruins.

The situation puts a mean proposition up to the Vatican.

The situation virtually forces the Vatican to take sides in the present turmoil. The Vatican will resist such pressure—that goes without saying. Nevertheless, pressure is going to be brought to bear on the Vatican. The Pope will have to do some diplomating.

LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT BOWEL WORMS

Nobody is sure to escape. And roundworms can cause real trouble for you or your child. Watch for the warning signs: uneasy stomach, nervousness, itchy nose or seat. Get JAYNE'S Vermifuge right away! JAYNE'S is America's leading proprietary worm medicine, used by millions for over a century. Acts gently. Demand JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE.

3 Ways We Can Help

There are so many things we'd like to do, to help out in the war, besides doing our own particular jobs as well as we know how. But of course we know that we can't do all of them, and keep our health and strength. But here are three things every homemaker can do as part of her daily tasks, and they'll help immensely.

Preserve Appliances!

Follow maker's directions for oiling motors, use all appliances correctly, take care of cords and plugs. And when the first hint of trouble develops, call your utility's service department.

Serve Right Foods!

Use your electric appliances to prepare the right foods in the right way to preserve all the vitamins and give your family the full nutrition value of everything you cook for them.

Collect Needed Scrap!

Don't hoard old pots and pans, give or sell them for scrap. Wash and flatten tin cans, and see that the collector gets them. And gently but firmly direct your husband on a scrap hunt of his own.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER CO.

The Great Game Of Politics

seems very noble and superior, but it does not make good sense and it is not good advice.

THE VITAL fact that the effectiveness of our armed forces in the field largely depends upon the efficiency of the war management at home is ignored. One would think from the arguments of the Administration propagandists that there was no connection between the two, that industry just turned out the material and the army was just supplied and that the confusion and incompetency in Washington has no effect upon either, which is ridiculous.

THE TRUTH, of course, is that had there been from the start competency and coordination in the war management, we would have had many more ships, planes, guns, bombs and munitions than we have now and would be closer to winning the war. The truth is that Administration bungling is calculated to prolong the war and make it more costly in blood and sweat and tears. The further truth is that our progress would be greater if there were more capacity and less friction in the war agencies and that only through constant pounding have some of the worst mistakes been corrected.

PROGRESS in winning the war is not promoted by ignoring the soggy state of affairs in Washington—quite the reverse. It is an exceedingly curious idea that these things are unimportant, that the American people are not interested in them and that it is not worth while to point them out. If that doctrine can be established, then anything can be done or left undone with complete impunity no matter what the cost to the country or how serious the effect on the war. Acceptance of that notion would remove all restraint and restriction from Administration officials.

THE INCOMPETENT ones ought not to be free from restraint and the competent ones do not want to be. So far from encouraging the people to feel that Washington confusion and inefficiency does not interfere with the conduct of the war, and therefore they need take no interest in it, their interest ought to be stimulated and their knowledge enlarged. It is difficult enough now to get at the facts buried under the thick blankets of Administration censorship and propaganda without being told that the facts make no difference and everything is lovely anyhow. That is no way to win a war or save a nation. That's a fine way to lose both.

Don't worry about the future of "private enterprise." They're got to save it to pay the taxes.

French Sailors Take Over New York City

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Sailors from the French fleet took over New York today—for the first time since America's entry into this war.

Fresh from the French battleship Richelieu, the sailors visited Times Square (which they found exciting), had dinner (French style) and had their tips returned by waiters (a break).

The French sailors were on shore for only five hours yesterday but that was long enough. They were impressed by the cold and friends

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS of NEW CASTLE

New Castle, Pa.
February 16th, 1943.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. New Castle:

The right and privilege to uphold our Bill of Rights and to defend our homes is the proud heritage of every true American; thus, our government has provided an extra measure of security in the form of the OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE.

Within the city of New Castle over 1800 Civilian Defense Volunteers are actually willing and eager to protect you, your family, your home and all your worldly goods against foreign aggression or internal sabotage WITHOUT ONE PENNY OF COMPENSATION. Even though they spend hours and hours of their recreational and leisure time in classes in order to better their knowledge in First Aid, Incendiaries, Bombs, Gases and Fires, they yet desire, as proud Americans, to render you and yours the most efficient service possible. Yet that, ultimately, can only be accomplished through having the necessary equipment.

The local O.C.D. workers urgently need equipment in order that they may better do the job for you. Knowing that this war is a vicious battle to the end, they ask your support and they realize that, support from you, as good American citizens, will not be lacking at any time.

The vast majority of your O.C.D. workers, duly representative of all posts, knowing that no state or city funds were available to purchase vital equipment, also that contributions were not to be taken, decided unanimously to give the people of New Castle something of real value in return for their support. They elected to bring Miller's 101 All-Star Circus, the largest touring indoor circus in the world, to this city where, it will play under local O.C.D. auspices at the Cathedral Auditorium for six consecutive days, starting Monday, March 1st.

This is truly the greatest show offered the people of New Castle in many years and all for a worthwhile purpose. The Circus is composed of EIGHTEEN DISPLAYS OF PROFESSIONAL STAR CIRCUS PERFORMERS . . . most of them features of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus. War bonds will be given away at each and every performance. One week before this big show plays New Castle it will be presented in the Ice Palace at Johnstown, Pa., under the auspices of the Memorial Hospital of that city.

Each of the undersigned men, duly appointed as executive council members of the Circus Fund of the New Castle O.C.D., ABSOLUTELY and WITHOUT RESERVATION GUARANTEES THE QUALITY of Miller's 101 All-Star Circus to be outstanding in entertainment value and herewith affix our signatures proudly and in all sincerity.

Very truly,

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—Governor Martin's budget message to the legislature soon will touch off the usual flood of bills which assemblymen have been holding in reserve to make certain that chances of passage will not be impaired. Many of the proposals being kept under cover will seek appropriations for schools, hospitals, colleges and other institutions while others will embrace various tax reduction schemes. So far, 420 bills have been sponsored in the legislature during the five weeks the legislators have been at work. During the 1939 session, 2073 measures were introduced but only 549 passed both houses and former Governor James signed 478. In the 1941 session, 2450 proposals were sponsored, 497 passed both houses and Governor James approved 429.

Realizing the acute shortage of teachers, the Pennsylvania State Education Association has urged its members not to leave their profession for higher-paying jobs in other fields. In addition, the association has appealed to former teachers to return to classrooms and has launched a campaign to "recruit capable young people for the profession." In line with the recommendation, the legislature has received a bill lowering the age for qualified instructors.

The work-relief program established by an act of the 1939 legislature is virtually non-operative. From a high of more than a quarter-million able-bodied relief recipients working for part of their state benefits, the number is now less than 2000. Termed the "work or starve" order by its opponents several years ago, the program was designed to use physically-sound workers on work projects sponsored by local communities, according to the department of public assistance. Computed at prevailing local wage rates for the occupations involved, the value of labor afforded to sponsoring agencies since 1939 has been approximately $16,700,000, the department has estimated. Relief officials, however, are continuing another type of work-relief under which the department contributes part of the wage cost for employment of relief recipients on certain public works. They predict that the program will be necessary to take up the slack in unemployment after the war.

Mrs. Luce Asks Plans For 'Air Future' Be Made

Allies Should Begin To Consider Formulating Air Policy Now

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Rep. Clare Boothe Luce on Monday added a plea for immediate planning for the "air future" of the world to her previously expressed demand that America maintain control of the skies over her own country.

"I believe that now and today," she said, "ourselves and the British and the Russians, if they will, and the Chinese, if they can, and all the United Nations should begin to consider how we can all formulate, an air policy which will give each nation the maximum of air traffic and power their own economy can stand and their own defense demands."

"The British and ourselves should at once begin this discussion, for at the peace table it will be too late."

Referring to her first house speech last Tuesday, she declared that she did not say then, nor ever will say, that "America should monopolize the air traffic of the world."

"I said," she added, "that I believe it to be America's national interest... that we should be the leading air power, commercially, tomorrow as we are militarily today."

Word Of Son's Death Is Greatly Delayed

Wife Of President Of Pittsburgh City Council Learns Son Died July 1, 1942

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Mrs. Thomas Kilgallen, wife of the president of Pittsburgh city council, received belated word from the war department today that her son Pvt. John F. Coyne, 22, had died last July 1 in the Panama Canal Zone.

Young Coyne enlisted on November 2, 1941. A letter dated seven days before his death mentioned that he felt in the best of health. The war department telegram failed to cite this cause or the reason for the long delay, but added that a letter would follow.

Mrs. Kilgallen had been mystified as to the whereabouts of her son by a previous marriage, since her letters to him had been returned unopened, and inquiries failed to reveal his location.

As the time grows nearer primary day in September the rush will start.

EMPLOYEES BUYING BONDS
The various offices on court house hill are being solicited now for war bond purchases through the payroll deduction plan. The solicitation is meeting with success and it is expected most of the employees will be enrolled before it is over.

QUINSEY
Quinsey is a disease in which an abscess forms in the back part of the throat.

It is a very painful condition. Usually the throat is sore for a day or two before the abscess begins to form.

The pain gets worse and swallowing is torture.

The patient suffers from thirst, but cannot swallow any water.

If the abscess is not opened, it gets larger and the pus may break through into the mouth.

The best treatment is to open the abscess as soon as it forms. This relieves the discomfort at once and usually the condition clears up right away.

Some people have had quinsey several times.

One attack is usually enough but two is too many.

The best preventive is to take out the tonsils.

"Join the Army and see a telephone," suggests the New York Sun in a story about an Oklahoma farm boy. The lad joined the Army Air Force as a mechanic. In the recruiting office, he used a telephone for the first time in his life.

"I just never lived around a telephone," he explained, "but it seems like a good thing if you can understand it!"

Certainly the Army seems to think so. To supply its demands for telephones, radio-telephones, wires and other communications equipment, the factories of the Bell System are running 24 hours a day. Practically all the telephone equipment now being made is going to war. So please keep your calls to the minimum and be brief on the calls you must make. READY FOR NEW AIR RAID TEST

New Signals To Be Tried Out In Air Raid Test On Wednesday

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—The state defense council today urged Pennsylvanians to acquaint themselves with the army's new unified air raid signals which will be inaugurated tomorrow in a tri-state daylight drill participated in by Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland.

A. Boyd Hamilton, acting executive director of the council, said that the initial test was being held to educate the public.

It was also pointed out that school children, who have been taught the meaning of the new signals, will be able to test their knowledge in the daylight drill.

Heralding the test will be a steady two-minute wailing of sirens at 10:50 a. m. for the blue signal. This will signify that enemy planes are approaching and pedestrians and motorists should hurry to their destinations.

At 11 o'clock, short spasmodic blasts will herald the actual raid. This is the red signal and indicates that in a real raid enemy planes would be overhead. Shelter should be sought immediately.

Five minutes later, the sirens will again give the blue signal—a prolonged wailing meaning that the planes have passed but the danger is not necessarily over. Travel may be resumed, with the public in readiness for another possible red signal.

The test will be concluded at 11:15 when a white signal will indicate the "all-clear." This signal will not be sent out by sirens. Radio stations and air raid wardens will inform the public that the test is over.

ALL CLEAR TO BE ANNOUNCED BY RADIO 	PEDESTRIANS CONTINUE NORMAL ACTIVITIES 	VEHICLES IN FULL OPERATION 	TRANSPORTATION RESUMES FULL OPERATION 	HOUSES AND BUILDINGS RESUME NORMAL LIGHTING

The above chart illustrates what each signal will mean for pedestrians, traffic, homes and factories under the new Air Raid Warning System which goes into effect in Pennsylvania and other eastern states by order of the Eastern Defense Command at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, February 17. New rules have been promulgated by the State Council of Defense to govern enforcement in this state.

Principal innovation is the audible "blue" alarm. When it precedes the "red" it means: "Enemy planes appear to be headed in your direction—Get ready." Civilian Defense forces mobilize on this signal. The "blue" signal following the "red" keeps the community on limited alert against the possible return of the enemy planes.

Another change is the elimination of the audible "all-clear" signal. The "all-clear" will be announced by radio and other means.

NO JUSTIFICATION FOR SCARE BUYING OF CLOTHES TODAY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The United States today possesses the largest supply of wool in its history and there is absolutely no justification for the "scare buying of clothing."

PETRILLO, RECORDING FIRMS NEAR AGREEMENT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, today forecast early lifting of the union's ban on recordings.

Petrillo, following a two-hour conference with representatives of recording firms, said negotiations would continue after it is decided whether the union shall bargain collectively for the entire industry.

The union, which has prohibited recordings since August 1, asks fixed fees for reproductions, a percentage of the charges for wired music and an annual fee for every juke box.

We need two parties—Liberals to install reforms and Conservatives to figure out a way to pay the bills.

John Tracy Clinic For Deaf Children Founded By Mrs. Tracy

Angel of deaf children—Mrs. Spencer Tracy, who sponsors the John Tracy Clinic for deaf children and their parents, plays with three of the youngsters who attend classes.

John Tracy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tracy nearly 19 years ago, a normal child, but through some evil quirk of nature became deaf a few months after birth. From that time on his mother has devoted herself to the education of John—to teach him to read lips and to speak, and John has been no "dumb-bell"—but that is another story.

Mrs. Tracy, naturally, has come in contact with deaf children and has become so interested in the education of such children that she has founded in Los Angeles what is known as the John Tracy Clinic, the primary purpose of which is to teach deaf children of pre-school age to read lips and to speak. It is the first institution of its kind in the United States and functions with the assistance of the University of California.

The opening was held in one of the university buildings although the clinic itself is conducted at No. 924 West Thirty-Seventh street, in Los Angeles, just off the university campus. The president of the University of California, Dr. Rufus von Klein Smid spoke briefly and introduced Mrs. Tracy who explained the purpose of the clinic. She in turn introduced the other speakers of the evening, teachers and those actively concerned in the work of the clinic. These included Mrs. George Berg, child psychology teacher, lent to the clinic by the Los Angeles Board of Education; Mrs. Florence Browne and Miss Mildred Kennedy, whose work with the Phipps unit to develop and train residual hearing is nationally known; Miss Katherine Fitzgerald of the Long Beach school for the deaf, who teaches the formation of speech to the mothers, and Dr. Boris Markovitch, who aided in the founding of the clinic.

After the meeting the guests, numbering nearly 300, inspected the clinic itself where refreshments were served.

The officers of the clinic are Mrs. Spencer Tracy, president; Mrs. E. L. Hunt, secretary; Mrs. J. E. Black, treasurer, and Mrs. Marguerite Holland, executive secretary.

Open Probe Into Food Question

Senate Agriculture Subcommittee Launches Sweeping Investigation

LEND-LEASE EFFECT ALSO TO BE STUDIED

By HORACE M. COATS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A senate agriculture subcommittee today opened one of the most sweeping investigations into the food question in recent years when it began taking testimony relating to production and consumption and prices from the producer to the consumer's table.

First witness called before the committee was Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture, with Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt, WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson and others related to follow.

Probe Price Fixing

"One of the main things which we hope to reveal is what effect price fixing has in the travel of food from the producer to the consumer," said Sen. Ellison O. "Cotton Ed" Smith, (D. S. C.), chairman of both the subcommittee and the full agriculture committee.

Smith said the scope of the investigation will include an inquiry into lend-lease, the effect of price subsidies and effect of AAA policies.

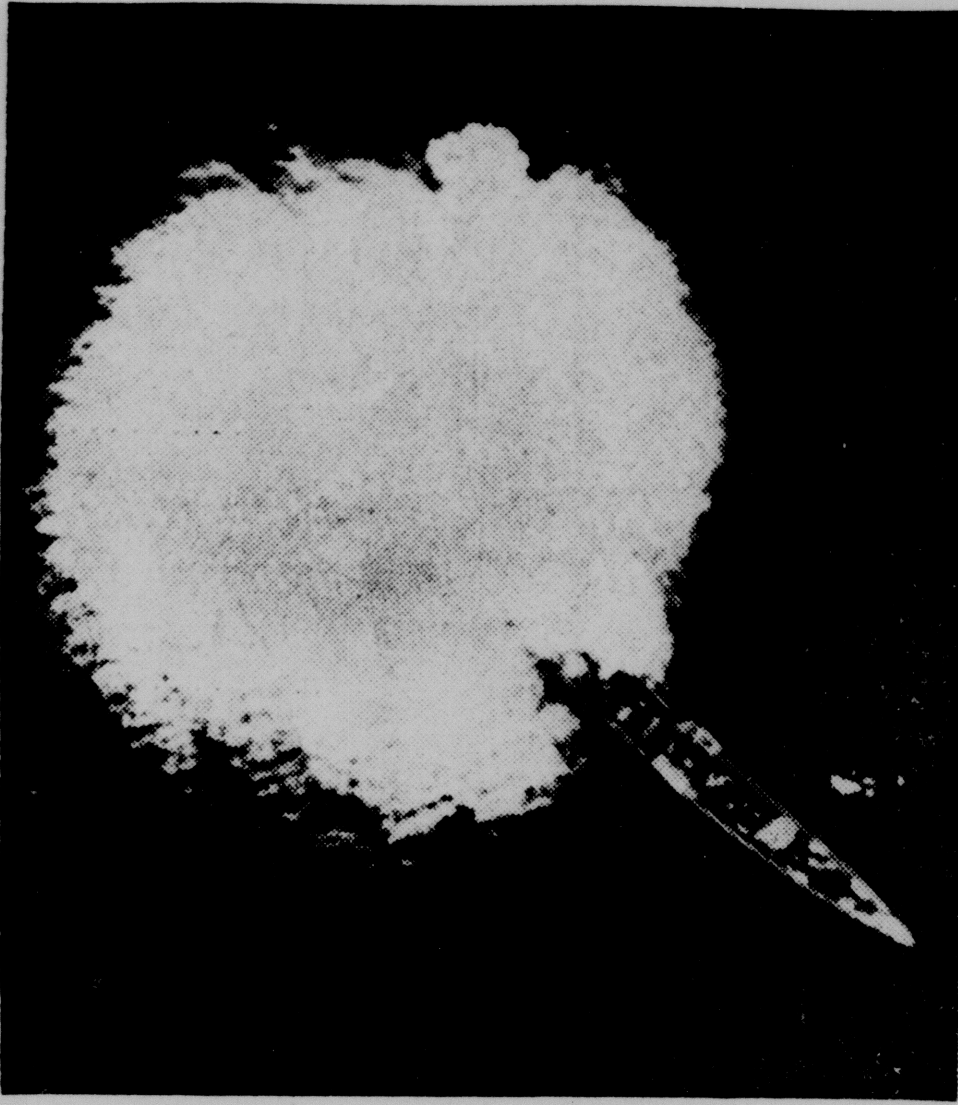

"We're going to call every man before this committee who has anything to do with the distribution of food and its price," he said. "God give me the wisdom to go at the investigation in the right way and blow this whole thing of restriction, rationing and control straight up."

With Smith on the committee, which is undertaking the inquiry on the initiative of the entire agriculture committee are Sens. Wheeler (D. Mont.), Stewart (D. Penn.), Aiken (R. Vt.) and Bushfield (R. S. D.).

From Wickard the committee sought information as to crop prospects for 1943 and the situation of the farmer with respect to implement and labor cost and supply.

The hearts of mountain lions were eaten by early California Indians to make them fearless.

U. S. BOMB HIT ON JAP SHIP

VIOLENT EXPLOSIONS rip the stern of a Jap patrol vessel in the Aleutians after a salvo of bombs dropped from a U. S. plane almost blew the ship out of the water. LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.

February 16, 1943
BLACKOUTS, ETC.

The New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Attention: The Editor.

Dear Sir:

The new regulations respecting Civilian Defense have been placed in the hands of the respective chairmen of the Local Councils, but there will undoubtedly be much confusion.

With your permission, the writer may be able to clear a few points:

First, the terms practice blackout and blackout—these terms are synonymous, they mean exactly the same thing, one means a practice called by direction of the State Council of Defense in which we go through all the motions but not however in any danger from the sky. The other or blackout is the real McCoy, for which we have prepared by practice and which we hope will never come.

Also the terms air raid drills and air raid—the first is practice, the other is the real thing. So if we remember that there are but two terms—blackout and air raid which are real—we need not be confused by the terms practice blackout and air raid drill.

The practice blackout or blackout begins on the blue audible signal (which is a long blast of even pitch for two minutes) and continues until the all clear is given. The all clear is not an audible signal, it comes over the radio or is localized by the wardens' whistles.

The air raid drill or air raid begins with the red signal which is a two minute warbling or wild cat sound or short 20 second blasts of a whistle.

Remember, the practice signals (either practice blackout (blue) or air raid drill (red) comes from the State Council of Defense. The real blackout or real air raid signals comes from the Army.

During a practice blackout or blackout, pedestrians and vehicles are permitted to be about but they should give consideration to a place of shelter if the red signal overtakes them.

All lighting in homes, stores, or street lighting must be put out on the blue signal.

Certain essential industries are exempt under proper authority except for token participation. The industries themselves know whether or not they are exempt, otherwise the industry must conform to the requirements.

At all times during hours of darkness, occupants of premises and operators of road vehicles shall not leave any lighting unattended. Of course, if the neighbors has a key or other similar arrangement has been made so that the lights can be extinguished on the blue signal, then said lights would be construed as being attended.

On the red signal, pedestrians must seek shelter. Road vehicles, except permitted emergency vehicles, must pull over to the curb and in case of a blackout, (the real thing) seek shelter. An exception is provided that during practice air raids, occupants of vehicles need not leave same. There is another exception which permits operators of vehicles carrying valuable cargoes to remain with their vehicles as guards. It is our belief that these exceptions also apply to buses, at least during inclement weather, however, the bus must pull in to the curb and stop.

It is well to remember that on a practice blackout, that is, on the sounding of the blue signal and up to the sounding of the red signal, violators with respect to lighting will be cautioned and should the violator not comply or should a violation occur during an air raid drill (red warning) stiff penalties are provided.

Between the blue and the red signal persons on the street may smoke but they may not light cigar, cigarette or pipe outdoors. From the red signal until the succeeding blue signal, no one may smoke outdoors.

It may be of interest to the wardens to know that the yellow signal goes inaudible to only a selected list. Post wardens, sector wardens, auxiliary police, employees of industry, medical units, etc. shall not be called on yellow signal, as these groups are mobilized on the blue signal. Severe penalties are provided for those who shall transmit information received on the yellow signal to unauthorized persons. This requirement will require a revamping of the call list on the part of industry.

To repeat—the signals are: yellow to a small confidential list. Blue—the mobilization signal, two minutes even pitch, pedestrians and vehicles may continue to move about; resident, store and street lights out, headlights of vehicles on low beam. Red, the warning signal, two minutes varying pitch, total blackout—people must seek and find shelter, vehicles must stop at curb. Blue—two minutes even pitch, always follows red, but not till after at least five minutes, pedestrians may move about, vehicles may move on low or tilt beam, but with due regard to surface conditions. This blue may be followed by another red or by white all clear. White is an inaudible signal received via radio—tune into your station for important announcements may come over the radio.

Yours very truly,
L. B. ROUND,
Executive Director, Lawrence County Council of Defense.

Politicians hesitate to state our war aim. They can't think of any program that wouldn't start an argument.

THE NEW AIR RAID WARNING REGULATIONS

By order of the military authorities, and in compliance with revised RULES AND REGULATIONS promulgated by the State Council of Defense, a new Air Raid Warning System will become effective in Pennsylvania Wednesday, February 17, 1943.

Principal new features are an audible alarm, known as a BLUE alarm, preceding and following the normal RED air raid alarm, and the discontinuance of the audible "all-clear" signal.

THE SEQUENCE

and meaning of the new signals are as follows:

1 BLUE SIGNAL

2 RED SIGNAL

3 BLUE SIGNAL

4 ALL CLEAR SIGNAL

1 BLUE—Two - minute blast of even pitch. Residential, commercial and street lights out. Civilian defense personnel mobilize.

2 RED—2-minute blast of varying pitch that is up and down the scale. All lights out. Total blackout. People on streets in shelter.

3 BLUE—2-minute blast of even pitch. Residential, and street lights remain out. Civilian defense personnel remains mobilized. Pedestrian and vehicles permitted to move as they may chose.

4 WHITE—Is not an audible signal, kept tuned to radios; if at night, street lights coming on will be an indication.

BLUE WARNING—A steady blast lasting approximately two minutes and indicating probability of an enemy raid. Street lights will be extinguished, but pedestrians may remain on the streets and traffic will proceed on low-beam lights. Houses and buildings except war plants black out. Civilian Defense forces mobilize.

RED WARNING—A series of short or wavering blasts lasting two minutes. This corresponds in general to the present air raid alarm and indicates enemy planes are "practically overhead." War plants black out, pedestrians take cover, and normal traffic halts. Authorized Emergency Vehicles proceed on low beam.

BLUE WARNING—A return to conditions prescribed for the preceding Blue Warning. This enables certain operations to resume, but keeps community on guard against possible return of enemy planes.

ALL-CLEAR—No audible alarm. Announcement will be made by radio and other means. Keep tuned to KDKA, WCAE, AJAS or your local station.

THIS YEAR DO YOUR EASTER SHOPPING EARLY—A SMALL DEPOSIT WILL HOLD ANY ITEM!

Men you've never even met Are fighting for you now!

Americans, all—millions of them!

The son of the tailor down at the corner... the young brother of the banker... the nephew of the gas-station man... the farm boy from Iowa... the college boy from Park Avenue.

Fighting, all of them—for us. That's Democracy in action. Because all Americans were "created free and equal" every American has an equal duty to perform.

And that's where WE come in. We've got to back up those boys. We've got to see that they get the stuff to fight with. Planes... tanks... guns... bullets... bombs... more of them than the world has ever seen before.

Every payday we've got to save—put 10 percent of our pay in War Bonds. Millions of other Americans are doing it.

"Sacrifice," you say? As great a sacrifice as the boys made at Bataan or Corregidor? As great a sacrifice as a flier made who deliberately gave his life to bomb a Jap plane carrier?

Nothing we can do can ever equal what these men have already done!

Mind you, we're not even asked to give this money. Every time we save $18.75 we get a War Bond worth $25 in 10 years. That's why we're not looking for excuses, we Americans.

We're not looking for excuses from lending money, when other Americans are giving their lives!

DO YOU KNOW?

When you buy WAR BONDS, you're saving, not giving! Series E WAR BONDS are worth 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ percent more in 10 years! You get \$4 for every \$3 you invest!

These BONDS, when held to maturity (10 years), yield 2.9 percent per year on your investment, compounded semiannually!

Joining a Pay-Roll Savings Plan makes saving easy!

Joining your bank's Victory Club (it works like any Thrift or Christmas Club) is a convenient way to save for War Bonds for those who aren't members of a Pay-Roll Savings Plan.

You can have enough money to do a lot of things you'd like to do, and to buy the many things you'll need after the war is over, if you save enough in War Bonds every payday NOW!

You can start buying WAR BONDS by buying War Stamps for as little as 10 cents.

Russell Baxter, local middleweight who has been inactive for months enters the ring again tonight having been engaged by Promoter Jake Mintz of Pittsburgh to box Jack Rowe in a four-rounder. New York Rangers lost the services of Gordon Davidson, defense player. He suffered a fracture of the metatarsal bone while playing Sunday. Until Selective Service came in there wasn't much said about metatarsals at that injury to that one has blocked some boys from going into service.

Directors of army and naval aviation physical training programs have declared the two services would continue competitive sports during the war.

Jackie Wilson formerly of Cleveland but more recently of the U. S. Army via California and Ray Robinson, welterweight champion, who is soon to slide into an army uniform have been pronounced fit for their bout Friday night in New York.

Titan-Grove City Game Called Off; Guard Five Billed

Westminster Host To Erie Coast Guard Team Tonight At 8:30

GOLDBLUM, DIERKEN,
BENNETT CALLED

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 16. Unable to field a full team, Grove City college has postponed tonight's game with Westminster's Titans.

The Erie Coast Guard flippers, Coach Grover C. Washabaugh announced today, will replace the Grovers on tonight's New Wilmington card. The clash will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Late yesterday afternoon, Grove City officials informed Washabaugh that the case squad has been heavily slashed by army calls and that it would be impossible to field a representative squad.

Washabaugh immediately got in touch with Erie officials and scheduled the service team.

Victories over West Liberty, Geneva, Juniata and Pitt twice have gained fifth place in the district ranking for the Titans. They now sport a record of seven wins and three setbacks.

Three Get Called
Bad news followed the good during the week-end when Charles Goldblum, outstanding Titan sophomore center from Pittsburgh; Don Bennett, towering East Liverpool sophomore, and Forward Bob Dierken received orders to leave with the Army Air Corps Reserves Monday, Feb. 22. They will report at 6 a. m. in Pittsburgh and will be sent to Miami.

Goldie will be on hand against Carnegie Tech Saturday.

'SCHOOLBOY' ROWE SOLD TO MONTREAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today they had sold Pitcher Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe and Catcher Homer (Dixie) Howell to the Montreal Royals of the International League in a straight cash transaction.

Rowe, who comes from El Dorado, Ark., was optioned to the Royals last August after having been brought from the Detroit Tigers. Howell was also on the option with the Royals last season. He is a product of Louisville, Ky.

Bramham Has Plan That Will Replenish Baseball In Wartime

Suggests Organization Of Class
E Leagues All Over
The Nation

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. — Judge William G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which is the organization composed of all the minors, has come up with an idea that might answer the problem of wartime recreation for many working and service men, and at the same time help to keep the game alive.

He suggests that class E leagues be organized all over the nation as a war-time asset to the game, to provide baseball "in territories where operation of larger loops has been found inadvisable during the emergency."

He goes on to say:

"There would, of course, be some necessary changes in present regulations covering class E leagues, such as dropping down the bars against experienced performers. Expressing the belief that industrial plants, and commercial and civic organizations will support such a movement, Judge Bramham continues:

"Class E circuits can play as few as three games a week, which means that part time of the performers could be devoted to industrial work. With night ball in vogue, the players could put in a full week on the job and play several night games each week. The payroll of such leagues would augment the salary earned in industrial plants."

Not only would this provide baseball in many sections which have seen their baseball wiped out for the duration, but would possibly develop youngsters for later service in organized ball and permit experienced players to "keep their hands in." Players who are on the voluntarily retired list while working in industrial plants would have to obtain permission of their clubs to play in the E leagues, but such approval would be denied in few cases in the opinion of Judge Bramham.

Judge Bramham's idea is workable, he is sure, and important because it could mean the difference between some sections seeing no baseball at all or seeing some pretty good baseball during the war.

Hutchinson Sharps Fight 10-Red Draw

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16. — Johnny Hutchinson, Philadelphia Negro, and Maxie Shapiro, New York lightweight, battled to a disputed 10-round draw in the windup at the arena last night, but it was Maxie's trunks that today were the center of attraction.

Referee Irv Kitcher called the bout a draw when the two judges were unable to agree—a decision that was both lustily cheered and roundly booed by the crowd. Had Hutchinson not lost the third round on a foul blow, he undoubtedly would have taken the bout.

Bobby Ruffin, of New York, was the easy victor over Philadelphia's Ellis Phillips in the semi-final. Lou Brooks of Wilmington scored a second round kayo over Baltimore's battling Monroe.

Hutson Smashes Eight Pro Marks

Bags Pass Receiving Championship For Fifth Time
In Eight Years

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Don Hutson, the receiver of the Green Bay Packers' famous passing combination of Cecil Isbell and Hutson, set eight new records while winning the pass receiving championship of the National Football league last season, statistics showed today.

Last season marked the fifth time in eight years Hutson won the title. Hutson finished the season with 74 receptions, nearly three times as many as his nearest competitor, Frank Ivy of the Chicago Cardinals, 27.

In addition to his receptions, Hutson set new season records for total yards gained (1,211), and touchdowns on receptions (17). Since joining the Packers in 1935 he has brought to 336 the number of passes he has received; touchdowns scored to 72 and total yards gained on receptions to 5,515—all new records.

He also set a new mark for the shortest touchdown pass completed when he caught one for four inches from Isbell against Cleveland, October 18.

Breaks Looney's Record

The Green Bay magician's other record was a game mark established also against Cleveland, October 18 when he gained 299 yards on receptions, exceeding by 23 yards the old mark set by Don Looney, then with Philadelphia, December 1, 1940. Two weeks later he again broke Looney's record when he gained 207 yards against the Cardinals. He also tied Looney's record for passes caught in one game when he took 14 against New York, November 22.

Hutson's 17 touchdowns bettered by seven the record he set in 1941. Hutson had two big weeks in touch-down production. One Sunday in November he caught three touchdowns passes against the Chicago Cardinals and the following week he duplicated the feat against Cleveland. It marked the sixth time in his professional career that he had caught three passes for scores in one game and the fourth time he turned the trick against Cleveland.

Wilmington-Bessemer Contest Tonight Transforms Peaceful College Town Into Madhouse

Starting Time 7 O'Clock—Undeclared "Greyhounds" Heavily Favored To Cinch Tie

For Sectional Crown—"Cementers" Must Win Or Be Relegated To "Also Ran"

List—Both Clubs Stacked With Stellar Performers—Cathcart, Kresovich In Starting Lineup—New Wilmington Has 41.9 Offensive Average In League; Bessemer

35.4—Grubisa Main Threat For Underdogs—Wampum Entertains East Brook—Shenango Journeys To Mt. Jackson.

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 16.

For the second time in less than three weeks, this usually placid suburb tonight will be transformed into a veritable madhouse for a couple of hours.

The "crucial" 32-minute New Wilmington-Bessemer high Section 21 conflict, to be played on the sawed-off Community House court, is the reason for the hubbub.

Triumphant in all 16 battles, thus far, 10 times in sectional frays, the popular and talented college townsmen can clinch a tie for the coveted emerald by disposing of the "Cementers."

LINE-UP

Wilmington Bessemer
Green Evans Kresovich
List Cathcart List
Borowicz Grubisa
Dunlevy Novad

Bessemer, on the other hand, must conquer or be relegated to the "also ran" category.

Rivals Star-Studded

The rival teams are beautifully supplied with stellar performers. The "Greyhounds" boast of Kenny "Skyscraper" Cathcart, six foot six ace and one of the top scorers in the WPAL. Norbert Borowicz, a guard, is rated as the class of the local loop by many fans.

Bessemer personnel, a solid row of leftovers from the 41-42 club which won the "21" title, can match, with the possible exception of Cathcart, every one of the Wilmington stars.

Swift Jack Grubisa, hampered early in the campaign by a foot injury, is in top shape and ranks as Bessemer's most dangerous performer. From his guard post, the clever Jack hauls a lot loaded with cage technique. Bessemer followers rate their Grubisa as "tops" in the loop.

"Tex" Tasota, the six feet four center, is a threat constantly around the runs Novad, List and Kresovich complete the starting lineup.

Each squad has been visited by the injury bugaboo. New Wilmington's Cathcart was hurt to such an extent last Tuesday that he passed up the East Brook tug but will be on the boards tonight.

In a recent scrimmage, Kresovich, Bessemer forward, sustained a swollen ankle. He too is doctored for action.

Wilmington Big Favorite

New Wilmington has the upper hand all the way around. Recently, the "Greyhounds" smashed Bessemer 38-30, right in the Cement City.

Playing on their native heath, New Wilmington's sons perform so imperceptibly that a defeat is as rare as hoop skirts.

Offensively, the host unit has dunked 419 points in "21" tilts for a 41.9 average. Defensively, the opposition has been stopped at the 23.7 mark.

Bessemer gambols on the court with 319 points in nine league contests for a 35.4 measure. The average has rolled up a 38.7 standard.

The untouchable Cathcart has tagged 147 points in nine district tilts; Kresovich comes next with 91 and then Green with 67.

Bessemer's head scoring man is Grubisa with 84 markers in nine league games. Tasota and List have 55 and 54, respectively.

Because of Bessemer's showing in the past two weeks, the Werewolves are rated an outside chance of pulling an upset.

Will Start Early

Officials today disclosed that the game will start at 7 due to the Westminster-Grove City fracas.

With their eyes on the direction of New Wilmington where they hope for an upset, Wampum seeks to maul East Brook and thus remain in the title chase. If the "Indians" win while the "Greyhounds" lose, the Wampumites and college townsmen will be stymied for the top berth. Wampum is at home.

Barring a complete reversal of form, Wampum, paced by their cage magician, Coy "Swisher" Centre, port an overwhelming edge.

Shenango's visit to Mt. Jackson completes the league's card.

Post "30" stuff and things and how is "Doc" Carlson, Pitt cage mentor, feeling these days? ...

Reliable Pittsburgh sources say that after Westminster's second victory in a week over Pitt, Coach Carlson scurried underneath the chilly pavilion, disregarding risk of contracting pneumonia, for a game of "badger" ...

Carlson, by the way, probably can sing "I've Got Spurs That Jingle, Jangle," thanks to a couple of hundred Titan fans. The genial "Doc" labeled the Westminsterites "Horseback Riders" in a recent blast. So, the blue and white addicts chanted the number quite frequently as the locals piled up the count—all for the benefit of Carlson!

Speedy Russ "Ranger" Currie, New Castle high's ball carrying half of the Statue of Liberty play last season, take the first steps leading to Uncle Sam's Army Friday. The attilete dropped out of school at the conclusion of the piskin show and thus forfeited deferment rights valid until the end of the school year ...

Sportsmen are asking a fishing license price lift. With gasoline rationing still here, national rationing and the 48-hour week keeping all of us close to home, the idea is as cockeyed as a guy walking along main street today wearing a straw hat and a white summer suit. Considering the small number of piscators who will be able to duck away, what good is a 50 cent raise now? ...

This must be a basketball record smasher, year. Frank Jean, star Indiana college performer, called the guys who keep books to burn 'em as he rattled the hoops for 40 points, a few nights back. His team routed Hanover, 104 to 55. Jean parked 32 fielders and six free throws, breaking the 68 point mark established by Bill Spradley, Oakland City in 1940-41 ...

Revolver Classes Get Exams Tonight

Sessions Start At 7:30 In Cathedral; Organizing New Classes

Sportsmen's Revolver club stages its regular meeting and basic small arms school in The Cathedral, tonight starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Two large classes and fire arms studies tonight. Examinations will be given.

New Class's March 2

New classes start March 2. Anyone desiring to enroll may do so by reporting at the Cathedral range any Tuesday evening or Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Classes have been so large that morning sessions have been started.

This school is under the supervision of the National Rifle Association, sponsored by the Revolver club for the sole purpose of training selectors, military police and plant guards. The school is under the direction of Chief Instructor Charles H. Schweinberg with instructors, William McKee, Howard Kilbreth, Frank George, George Bolinger and Charles Phillips. Earl Dufford is school adjutant. These men have all expert N. R. A. ratings.

Frank George and Charles Schweinberg received advanced instruction at the Marine Base in Quantico, Va. Last week proved a most interesting session. Officer Dean of the Pennsylvania Motor Police gave a very interesting talk on the value of knowing small arms.

Offensively, the host unit has dunked 419 points in "21" tilts for a 41.9 average. Defensively, the opposition has been stopped at the 23.7 mark.

Bessemer gambols on the court with 319 points in nine league contests for a 35.4 measure. The average has rolled up a 38.7 standard.

The untouchable Cathcart has tagged 147 points in nine district tilts; Kresovich comes next with 91 and then Green with 67.

Bessemer's head scoring man is Grubisa with 84 markers in nine league games. Tasota and List have 55 and 54, respectively.

Because of Bessemer's showing in the past two weeks, the Werewolves are rated an outside chance of pulling an upset.

Will Start Early

Officials today disclosed that the game will start at 7 due to the Westminster-Grove City fracas.

With their eyes on the direction of New Wilmington where they hope for an upset, Wampum seeks to maul East Brook and thus remain in the title chase. If the "Indians" win while the "Greyhounds" lose, the Wampumites and college townsmen will be stymied for the top berth. Wampum is at home.

Barring a complete reversal of form, Wampum, paced by their cage magician, Coy "Swisher" Centre, port an overwhelming edge.

Shenango's visit to Mt. Jackson completes the league's card.

Savold Is Latest To Kayo Franklin

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Leo Savold, Paterson N. J. heavyweight, was back on the comeback trail again today after turning in one of the best fights of his career with his tenth round knockout victory over Lem Franklin of Chicago.

The former Doc McMeer la. battler, set up off the floor after a couple of six in the first round last night and despite a closed eye waged an unhill fight to pile up points and then win by a knockout.

Hard left jabs to Franklin's chin in the tenth round put the Chicagean down for the count and he had to be dragged to his corner.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Pat Comiskey, Paterson N. J. heavyweight, continued along the winning trail today by virtue of an eight-round decision over Jimmy Corallo of New York last night.

Special Army, Navy Trainees To Work 60 Hours Weekly

Young Men, Women Selected For Training To Do Two Year's Work In One

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Young men and women chosen to take specialized army and navy courses in selected colleges and universities will go to school not 40, not 48, but 60 hours a week.

Details of selection and training were discussed yesterday by Prof. J. W. Barker, dean of the engineering school of Columbia University and special assistant to the secretary of the navy, Col. W. E. Gregory, executive officer of the army specialized training division.

The army program will be divided into 24 hours of classroom or laboratory instruction, 24 hours of study, five hours of military training and seven hours of physical training. The navy plan will be more elastic but also will require 60 hours weekly.

The program will be continued 48 weeks a year and Col. Gregory estimated a year's training would equal two years of normal academic instruction.

Warm Welcome For French Sailors In Philadelphia Port

But Weather Chilly Compared With Sunny North Africa They Just Left

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—Sporting jaunty red pompons atop their blue berets, the French sailors aboard the cruiser Montcalm, docked at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, took the warm receptions given them by Quaker City residents in stride today, but the weather—only 14 in shade—was a little less than ideal.

Two weeks ago they were stationed on sunny North Africa shores. But chilly though the weather is, they were glad to reach safety in the Philadelphia port.

To Americans they are friendly—but close-mouthed. Most of their families are still in France, and the sailors are under orders not to disclose identities for fear they may bring reprisals to their loved ones. One of the seamen said those aboard his ship have not seen their families in three years, and have not known their whereabouts for 18 months.

Cold Wave Still Hangs On Over Eastern Areas

With an official temperature of four degrees below zero during the night, the cold wave which has gripped the district since Sunday morning showed some signs of abating today, although continued cold weather was promised by the U. S. weather bureau forecaster at Pittsburgh.

However, it is believed the mercury will not fall as low tonight, particularly since snow is promised.

Although no deaths have been attributed to the cold here, many people have suffered from the sub-zero temperatures, which has been particularly hard on the coal pile.

Two More Deaths In Sub-Zero Wave

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Western Pennsylvania still shivered amidst sub-zero temperatures for the second day today while two additional deaths were reported from the cold wave.

Mrs. Anna Williams, 40, was found frozen to death in the yard of her home at Jessemer, Fayette county, Val Zombo, of Washington, Pa., was found, frozen to death on the bank of Chartiers creek.

While schools in rural sections remained closed for lack of heat, the mercury in most thermometers continued to flirt with zero levels. Pittsburgh reported five above while the following sub-zero recordings were made in other sections: Mercer -6; Brookville -12; Vandergrift -10; and Warren -15.

Let it be said—the credit of the little zoophytes that built the coral islands of the South Pacific, they never dreamed of the places being used as Jap plane bases.—Arkansas Gazette.

Two Small Fires Occur In City

Two small fires occurred in the city tonight.

At 4:20 o'clock Monday afternoon, firemen were called to the home of Kith Ely, of 820 Fulkerson street, by an alarm from box 64, where it was found that soot accumulated in an unused grate had set fire to the house. The blaze burned through the weather boarding. Damage amounted to $25.

At 6:35 o'clock this morning, firemen were called to the home of W. P. Dout, of 311 Vine street, by an alarm from box 33, where a bad chimney set fire to the joists supporting the floor. Damage of $5 was done.

AFL OFFICIAL GETS STATE APPOINTMENT

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—David Williams, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (A. F. L.), today assumed the duties of deputy in charge of labor in the State Department of Labor and Industry.

His appointment to the $7,000-a-year post was announced by the governor's office and Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chesnut.

Pigeons prefer sidewalks, pavements and building cornices, although trees may be available, because they have walking feet, not perching feet. They feel more comfortable on flat foundations.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

FORT DES MOINES, Iowa.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt: "If we want to preserve our standard of living we must be willing to share things we have with different people. We have a great deal to share and to offer—technical knowledge and materials—which should give an enormous amount of hope to the rest of the world."

PHILADELPHIA.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker: "In days to come, air liners will be as common as freight cars... the army and navy air transport commands now average around 500 trans-Atlantic flights per week, day and night, all year around."

NEW YORK.—Rep. Clare Boothe Luce: "It is true that I said that America must control its own skies. If this be treason, such critics must make the most of it. I did not say, I do not say and I never will say that America should monopolize the air traffic of the world."

NEW YORK.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, outlining an "American Beveridge plan" said it was "aimed at assuring subsistence for every employe, whatever the nature of his employment, and assuring every self-employed person protection from such hazards as old age, permanent disability, extended illness and premature death."

There are about 526 muscles that have to do with the moving of the human body. In addition to these, there are various muscular structures in the internal organs, but these are not generally considered as muscles.

STOCKS

Stock Market is Reactionary

Slight Recessions In Some Prices are Recorded During Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The stock market reacted today under profit-taking, which was attracted by yesterday's active climb to new 1942-43 peak. A few issues dropped as much as a point.

Trading slowed somewhat.

Commodities stole the spotlight as grains, led by wheat, climbed better than a cent a bushel, while cotton showed extreme gains of 85 cents a bale.

Bonds turned quiet and displayed a somewhat mixed trend through most of the forenoon.

The London market displayed a generally steady tone.

Stocks to give up a point or more included Unions Carbide, Johns-Manville, U. S. Gypsum, J. I. Case and Oliver Farm.

Leads were suffered by Chrysler, Union Pacific, Standard Oil of N. J., Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber and Boeing.

Allied Stores was among the few independently firm issues, rising 1-8 to a new 1942-43 top of 71-4.

New British Air Chief Arrives At North Africa Post

Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder To Command Mediterranean Air Forces

(International News Service)
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 16.—Arrival of British Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur William Tedder to take up his new appointment as commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean air command was officially disclosed on Monday.

Tedder was met at the airbase by Major General Carl Spaatz of the United States Army Air Corps and British Air Marshal Sir William Welsh. Accompanying Tedder in a Flying Fortress was Air Vice-Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, who takes over command of air forces in Tunisia under Gen. Spaatz.

The fortress was piloted by First Lieut. John L. Cronkite of St. Petersburg, Fla., who recently flew a bomber safely back to its base with two motors out after attacking Castel Benito airbase at Tripoli.

His present ship, named "Thunderbird," is painted with facsimiles of 25 bombs to indicate the number of raids made on Axis territory, and there are eight Swastikas to show the number of enemy planes destroyed.

"We've been credited with a couple of submarines but haven't had time to paint them on yet," one of the gunners said.

'THIS IS THE ARMY' CAST GETS NAVY 'E'

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The huge cast of "This Is The Army" was enroute to Hollywood today carrying with it the Navy's Burgee 'E' pennant.

The cast was given the pennant at the orders of Vice Admiral John Greenslade, commandant of the western sea frontier, "as an expression of gratitude for playing so many shows for wounded navy and marine patients in all navy hospitals."

The cast will make a picture version of "This Is The Army" for the army's emergency relief fund.

Victory Gardens Are Healthy, Patriotic

Wartime Health Of Nation Should Increase, Food Shortage Decrease This Year

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—America's 18,000,000 victory gardens will not only relieve the civilian food shortage but should also provide U. S. consumers with health-giving foods, the department of agriculture pointed out on Monday.

"The fullest measure of protective foods is obtained from well-grown, freshly-gathered vegetables," the department said in urging civilians to get behind the victory garden program.

"It is only when vegetables are well-grown, harvested in their prime and promptly and carefully prepared that it is possible to secure the highest values from them," the department continued. "Incidentally only then do they give flavors that distinguish them from most commercially produced products."

Concerned about the war-time health of the people at home and convinced by last year's 15,000,000 victory gardens, the agriculture department is pushing plans for as many 1943 victory gardens as there are victory gardeners and space to plant.

If the department said, 18,000,000 gardens—12,000,000 in the cities, 6,000,000 on the farms—are tended, a great burden on the transport system will be lifted, the pinch of canned goods rationing will be lightened and the strain of extraordinary civilian, army and lend-lease needs of food production facilities will be somewhat lessened.

"There is now real need for civilians to relieve the burdens by growing all food that is practical at home, and preserving, storing and using it over as much of the year as possible," says the department in a specially prepared pamphlet on "victory gardens," which is available free of charge at the department.

Tells Pittsburgh Air Threat Exists

Commander Of First Fighter Command Warns Our Foes Are Unpredictable

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Although an air attack on Pittsburgh is unlikely, Brig. Gen. Willis R. Taylor, commanding general of the first fighter command, said Monday that means of protection must be provided as long as the threat exists.

"We don't expect any air raids but the threat does exist," the general said.

"You can't estimate what our enemies will do. They are terrifically fanciful. "It's closer from Norway to Pittsburgh than it is from Norway to New York or Washington," General Taylor and Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker, wife of the famous World War ace, were honor guests of the Chamber of Commerce in Pittsburgh on Monday.

Mrs. Rickenbacker spoke briefly on the part women are playing in the volunteer air raid watching system.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Byrd economy committee charged in a report today that the government bureaucratic officials use automobiles on a peacetime basis while the average citizen is subjected to most rigid regulations.

Assailing extravagances in use of government automobiles, the committee proposed prison penalties for officials and employees using cars for other than official purposes.

Your Federal Income Tax

NO 38 GAINS AND LOSSES

Income is frequently affected by transactions in property held for profit or investment, or used in the taxpayer's business, but not a part of the stock in trade. Such transactions may occur in real estate, or other tangible property, such as store fixtures or plant machinery and equipment, or such personal possessions as car or household goods. Such transactions are reportable either in Schedule F or Schedule G of the return Form 1040, and depending upon the character, are taken partly or wholly into the income account on the face of the return (item 8).

The law requires gains or losses to be reported according to the nature of the transaction, and two separate entries are provided in item 8 for this purpose: (a) net gain (or loss) from sale or exchange of capital assets, (b) net gain (or loss) from sale or exchange of property other than capital assets.

A distinction is made between capital assets and "other than capital assets." The latter includes primarily property subject to the allowance for depreciation and land used in the trade or business and held for more than six months where losses from sale or involuntary conversion of such property exceeds the gain. If gains from the sale or involuntary conversion of property subject to the allowance for depreciation and land used in the trade or business, and held for more than six months, exceed the losses, the transactions are treated in the same manner as a sale of capital assets.

On property classified as "other than capital assets" the full amount of the gain (or loss) from sale or exchange is taken into the income account in item 8 (b) of the return Form 1040, and an explanation of the transaction is shown in Schedule G.

In transactions in capital assets, such as nondepreciable property and securities, the amount of gain or loss taken into the income account, in item 8 (a), is subject to certain limitations. For such property held for not more than six months, the entire amount of the net gain or loss is considered in arriving at the net amount to be shown, while for property held more than six months, one-half of the net gain or loss is considered. The combined net gain is entered in item 8 (a) of the return. If, however, the result is a net loss, then the amount which may be entered is limited to $1,000 or to the amount of the taxpayer's net income from other sources, whichever is the smaller. In arriving at the net figure, also, losses of this character for a preceding year may be used as an offset within certain limitations, and the net results of such transactions on partnership or common trust fund account must be included.

It should be noted that in the case of sale or exchange of property, such as the taxpayer's residence, automobile, house furnishings, or jewelry, gains must be taken into income but losses are not allowed to be so taken. Such property, not being depreciable, would classify as capital assets, and the treatment of gains would be governed as stated above.

Farmers Guests Of Rotary Club

Sixty County Farmers Are Guests At Annual Farmers Meeting On Monday

Sixty Lawrence county farmers were guests of the New Castle Rotary club at the annual farmers meeting in The Castleton Monday noon, each club member having a farmer from Lawrence county as his particular guest at the luncheon.

W. Howard Humphrey, chairman of the rural-urban committee, was in charge of the program and introduced Kenneth Stearn of Springfield, Mass., in charge of public relations for the Eastern States Farmers Exchange, who spoke on the subject "Farmers cooperate, everybody benefits."

He gave an interesting insight into the farmers cooperatives, and told how they benefitted the farmer in securing higher quality goods at lower prices.

Shipbuilding, both naval and commercial, is consuming a far bigger proportion of the United States steel production in wartime than the automobile industry consumed in 1940, before the country entered the war.
